The instructor is friendly, kind, and knowledgeable. However, i would have liked to have done more hands-on activities rather than answering so many text-driven questions.

Identify one of the instructors strengths that is important to you. (21 Comments)

Comments: Overall (21)

Experience and knowledge in subject

Hands on activities done in class

Her years of experience in education.

I believe that a strength of Ms. Duran's is that she is able to apply real life scenarios, situations and stories to content. Also, she is extremely experienced and well versed in this area.

She allows everyone the chance to succeed in the class and is always readily available for consultation.

She gives helpful examples that can be used in the field and is strongly passionate about this topic.

She is accessible. The course was organized and all necessary information was provided during the first class

She is friendly

She is knowledgeable with educational content.

She is respectful toward her students.

She knows very well what she is doing and has a wide range of knowledge from the places she's been

She was very easy to get along with.

She was very nice and she allowed us to re-do assignments if it was necessary as long as the assignment was not submitted late.

The instructor gives feedback to each assignment.

The instructor provides a friendly environment and is always willing to help you out.

Name one idea or concept that you learning in the course that you did not know before. What important insight did you gain from this course? (21 Comments)

Comments: Overall (21)

An important concept that I learned from this class is brain development, and how certain delays or developmental issues play a major role in a student's ability and capacity to learn.

Goals for IEPs

How to manage a classroom to avoid or minimize behavioral problems.

I did not gain much from this class.

I have learned a lot in this class. Everything that we went over was helpful in preparing myself for my career.

I learned that there are many hidden cultures in people

I never realized how technology is impacting education and this course really opened my eyes to this idea. I knew we were in a technology-based generation and now I see that incorporating technology into your teaching gives the students better skills.

I was not aware of the three types of assessments—obtrusive, inobtrusive, student-generated.

Importance of children's home language in learning age-appropriate development.

Mostly everything was new to me. This new knowledge will help me be a better educator.

One important thing I learned in this course is how information is processed into your long-term memory. That is a basic concept that all teachers need to know in order to teach their students effectively.

PTA national standards

The foundations for learning language.

There are so many things that I have learned in this course. One thing that I never considered when I was going into education is how educational politics will play a role in your classroom. I am learning a lot about how you can help your students succeed

Name one aspect of this course you would change to improve it. (21 Comments)

Comments: Overall (21)

I don't think it is necessary to meet every week since majority of the work is done online. Meeting once a month for about 3 hours and then doing everything else online would be best.

I wish that occasionally we had instructor lectures on video

I would be more clear as to the assignments required for this course...I got confused much of the time.

I would have liked more assignments. I'm not really saying that I can handle more work, but more videos to watch or reading to accomplish and then have dialogue with other students would have helped me. I'm in a very remote location and have few colleag

I would have liked to have had more experience and guidance with SAT's and IEP's. We learned breifly about them, but filling out a mock would have been nice.

Maybe there should be one more class meeting than she had this semester. Some content was better understood in person rather than online.

None. I really enjoyed this course.

Not to have it half in class, and half Blackboard.

The structure of the on-line course is confusing. I don't always not what to do.

it be longer. wish the ba program would have been put together more so that we can get more experience.

less textbook, learned more from the teacher than the book

more class interaction. Simply filling out surveys made for an easy class, but not a lot of learning
