Information Resources to Support the Curriculum of the College of Education

Ben Lujan Library at Northern New Mexico College seeks to support the curriculum needs of students and faculty and to provide quality information resources, services, and an environment that benefits learning and teaching. Some resources that directly support the curriculum of the College of Education include:

Education Research Complete:

The Ben Lujan Library at Northern New Mexico College subscribes to Education Research Complete. This is a bibliographic and full-text database that covers scholarly research relating to all areas of education. Education Research Complete covers the areas of curriculum instruction, administration, policy, funding and related social issues. The database provides full text access to more than 1,300 education journals, and indexing and abstracts to over 2,500 education journals. Topics covered include all levels of education from early childhood to higher education, and all educational specialties, such as multilingual education, health education, and testing. This database also includes full text for over 550 books and monographs, and full text for numerous education-related conference papers.

Print books:

The Ben Lujan Library at Northern New Mexico College owns 3,608 print books in the subject area of education. The College of Education recently donated 238 print books that will increase our holdings in the subject area of education, and more specifically, Native American education. These items will be added to our catalog in July 2015.

Print journals:

The Ben Lujan Library subscribes to the following print journals in the subject area of education: Chronicle of Higher Education, College Composition and Communication, Education Digest, Elementary School Journal, Instructor, Journal of Educational Psychology, Mathematics Teacher, and Reading Teacher.

eBooks:

The Ben Lujan Library at Northern New Mexico College subscribes to EBSCO eBook Academic Collection and EBSCO eBook Community College Collection. Through these subscriptions we have full text access to more than 8,000 eBooks in the subject area of education.
