

SYLLABUS TEMPLATE

Course Number	HIST 162
Course Name	History of the US from 1877
Credit Value (Breakdown of theory and lab credits)	3 Theory
Catalog Course Description	Economic, political, social, and intellectual development from 1877. (3, 3T +05) Meets New Mexico Lower Division General Education Core Curriculum Area V Humanities and Fine Arts (NMCCN HIST 1123) Credit Hours: 3
Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives /Competencies of the Course	By the end of the course, students will be able to explain in their work how humans in the past shaped their own unique historical moments and were shaped by those moments, and how those cultures changed over the course of the centuries for American History 1865 to the present. Specifically, <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. To describe general information on the history of the US from reconstruction to the present. 2. To memorize and track people, places and events US from reconstruction to the present. 3. To relate the physical and historical geography of US from reconstruction to the present. 4. To employ foundational theoretical and conceptual frameworks to interpret myths and documented facts as they pertain to US from reconstruction to the present. 5. To find and interpret history through archival documents, maps and audio-visual sources.
College-Wide Student Learning Outcomes	HIST 162 learning objectives align with the following NNMC College Wide Goal: Critical Thought: Students will express ideas coherently through their weekly assignments including discussion forums; responding to colleagues discussion posts; cognitive exercises including weekly chapter quizzes supplemented by unit written essay exams and chapter exams.