

NURS 217L

Course Number	NURS 217
Course Name	Maternal Newborn Nursing
Credit Value (Breakdown of theory and lab credits)	1 Lab (Clinical)
Catalog Course Description	Clinical experiences provide the student an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe patient care to childbearing women and newborns in a variety of settings.
Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives /Competencies of the Course	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Perform a comprehensive assessment of women and newborns. 2. Develop a family centered plan of care based on data collected during a comprehensive assessment. 3. Select cultural and age-appropriate interventions for inclusion in the family centered plan of care. 4. Implement nursing care that is safe and based on the established plan of care. 5. Use clinical judgment when implementing the family centered plan of care and evaluating family centered outcomes. 6. Participate as a member of the interprofessional health care team. 7. Communicate patient-related information to members of the health care team in a timely manner. 8. Plan and provide health-related education as a member of the health care team. 9. Use information technology as a documentation tool to securely and accurately communicate with members of the health care team. 10. Apply knowledge of pathophysiology, pharmacology, and nutrition into patient care. 11. Analyze current evidence, expert opinion, and clinical expertise as a basis for nursing care and clinical judgment. 12. Incorporate current evidence, expert opinion, and clinical expertise in the delivery of evidence based practice. 13. Use information technology as an information gathering tool that supports clinical decision making and scientifically based.

	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 14. Use communication techniques that facilitate a caring nurse-patient relationship. 15. Advocate for the patient when nursing care issues arise and health care decisions must be made. 16. Participate in the development of quality improvement strategies to advance health care services. 17. Implement and evaluate quality improvement strategies that respond to patient care and institutional concerns. 18. Use organizational and priority setting skills in the management of patient care. 19. Appropriately delegate patient care tasks to members of the healthcare team and monitor performance. 20. Practice nursing in accordance with established standards of practice and institutional policies and procedures. 21. Use the ANA code of ethics as a framework for ethical practice. 22. Practice nursing in accordance with the Nurse Practice Act and other regulatory guidelines. 23. Maintain professional accountability and responsibility when communicating with patients and in the delivery and supervision of patient care. 24. Use verbal and nonverbal communication that promotes caring, therapeutic relationships with families. 25. Integrate changes in communication and use of self in relation to barriers identified during assessment of family. 26. Use standardized hand-off communication tools when transferring care responsibilities to other members of the health care team. 27. Communicate effectively with the health care team and demonstrate appropriate conflict resolution skills as needed.
College-Wide Student Learning Outcomes	NURS 217L learning objectives align with the following NNMC College Wide Goal: Critical Thinking THE COURSE ASSESSMENT TOOL (ASSIGNMENT) used to assess the College-Wide Student Learning Outcome is: Care Plan.