

SYLLABUS TEMPLATE

Course Number Course Name	PSY 477 Psychology of Gender and Sexuality
Credit Value (Breakdown of theory and lab credits)	3 Theory
Catalog Course Description	The student will explore issues in the behavior of men and women, including theoretical perspectives, stereotyping, gender differences, development, sexuality, and social and cultural problems. Prerequisites: ENG 111, PSY 105. (3, 3T+0S)
Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives/C ompetencies of the Course	Upon completion of the course students should be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Describe central research questions, theories, concepts and methodologies used in the study of human sexuality. 2. Distinguish between myths and realities related to sexuality. 3. Explain changes in sexuality across the lifespan. 4. Describe the interactions of biological, psychological, and sociocultural dimensions in human sexuality. 5. Identify issues related to sexual health 6. Outline the history of the perspectives of psychology on gender and sexuality, to include classical theories and diagnoses.
College-Wide Student Learning Outcomes	The following college-wide objective will be addressed in the course: Communication <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Identify, orally and in writing, central research questions, theories, concepts and methodologies used in the study of human sexuality. 2. Define and describe the major concepts and issues in human sexuality through course examinations, class discussion, and writing assignments.