Enrollment

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Enrollment

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2016-17. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2016-17 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Northern has implemented innovative classes in Special Education for in-service teacher professional development, offering these classes to prospective teachers as well. Northern invested in faculty development in the area of strategies for success for school children from poverty, as a result, several classes now include this information. The faculty is trained in the use of instructional technology and web-based instruction to ensure high-quality courses that comply with state and national standards. The COE at NNMC has developed and implemented a robust assessment system to monitor candidate performance and inform unit operations. Candidates are assessed for mastery of NM Teacher competencies to ensure progression towards program completion.

Use of Technology

1. Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(F\))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction

Yes
 No

- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning

Yes
 No

- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

Yes
 No

- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

NNMC's College of Education has identified, "the utilization of technology-based tools to support student learning" as a skill that all teacher candidates will be able to demonstrate by the completion of their program. All teacher candidates create a professional portfolio that evidences their use of technology for teaching and student learning. Students are required to submit their professional portfolio electronically to demonstrate their use of technology for teaching and learning. The college faculty integrates technology into the curricula and instruction by incorporating the National Education Technology Standards, developed by the International Society for Technology in Education, into their program's course syllabi. The programs' matrix evidences the integration of technology into the curricula for teaching and learning. The Elementary and Secondary Programs require an assessment course, ED 492, which requires teacher candidates to collect, manage, and analyze data to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Half of the ALP Programs' college courses are either provided to teacher candidates in hybrid or web-enhanced format. The hybrid format require the college faculty and teacher candidates to meet 50% of the time in person and fulfill the remaining course requirements via the Black Board Learning Environment. The hybrid format indicates that the college faculty meets 75% of the time face to face but requires 25% of the course requirements via Black Board or other learning environment. These formats require the college faculty and teacher candidates to use technology for teaching and learning in dynamic methods, which encourage team building, critical thinking, and provide flexible ways for both parties to communicate and learn. The College of Education moved to a new building, and this move included new technology in the classrooms in the form of smart boards and document cameras. We also have purchased new laptops and an IPAD Cart for use in the classrooms. This increase in technology will increase our incorporation of technology in coursework.

On this page, review the questions about how your program trains general education teachers and special education teachers. For the purposes of these questions, general education teachers means those who are not specifically prepared as special education teachers. Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. \(§205\(a\)\(1\)\(G\)\)

1. Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

a. teach students with disabilities effectively

- Yes
 No

b. participate as a member of individualized education program teams

- Yes
 No

c. teach students who are limited English proficient effectively

- Yes
 No

2. Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

The teacher preparation program at NNMC prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities by integrating differentiated instructional strategies into the majority of the required courses. Instructors in the Special Education program, who also teach courses in the general education program, address the instructional and IEP needs of special learners throughout their courses. Since the academic needs and research-based instructional strategies for ELL and Special Education students are similar, both types of learners are addressed in strategies taught, materials selection, & use of instructional technology. Strategies, both formal and informal, are discussed to accurately assess student progress toward learning goals in the IEP in three of the required courses to ensure teacher candidates can effectively apply the strategies. In two reading courses, goals and objectives in the IEP are addressed, with emphasis on collaborating with regular education teachers to support special learners. SPED 480/ED 475 - Students pursuing a general education and/or a special education license focus on teacher knowledge and application skills in teaching curricula aligned with state content standards and benchmarks. Strategies are modeled by the instructor and practiced by the students. SPED 465 – Students learn and apply the elements of reading and the adaptations made for special learners to address skill gaps. All components of reading are explored as well as the precursors necessary for acquiring reading and literacy skills. Assessments consist of students effectively applying the strategies in lesson plans and classroom activities based on case studies and their individual classroom population (for those who are teaching). All reading courses in both general education and Alternative Licensure courses address strategies to meet the needs of English Language Learners. These strategies are also included in the Bilingual and TESOL programs offered to prospective teachers as additional licensure programs.

3. Does your program prepare special education teachers to:

a. teach students with disabilities effectively

- Yes
- No
- Program does not prepare special education teachers

b. participate as a member of individualized education program teams

- Yes
- No
- Program does not prepare special education teachers

c. teach students who are limited English proficient effectively

- Yes
- No
- Program does not prepare special education teachers

4. Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

The SPED program at NNMC prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities by providing a firm foundation in pedagogy, content, characteristics of various exceptionalities (SPED 455, SPED 480) and the relevant classroom strategies to support each. Students learn to conduct an effective and efficient IEP, per the requirements of IDEA, as well as develop techniques to train team members in the IEP process. The learning needs of students identified as ELL and receiving special education services are addressed through identifying the specific need of the child, be it communication disorders, perceptual, auditory, and other areas to better target instruction and support in an inclusion program. SPED 455 - IEP Development - Students learn to develop and Individualized Educational Plan (IEP), including the RTI process, relevant special education legislation, writing and measuring goals and objectives based on NM Content Standards and Benchmarks, and interfacing with regular classroom teachers.
