All conditions of employment for faculty under the Faculty Bargaining Unit (Tenure, Tenure-Track, and Adjunct Faculty) are described in the Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) such as compensation, fringe benefits, tenure and promotion, post-tenure review, institutional committee participation, academic freedom, safety, workload, seniority, reduction in force, grievances, progressive discipline, evaluation, faculty member investigations, and leave.

Conditions of employment for faculty that are not in the Faculty Bargaining Unit (Chairs, Directors, Coordinators, Visiting Faculty, Instructors, Lecturers, and Research Faculty) are described in this handbook.

All other college policies and procedures are found on the College Website.

PREFACE

Institutional History

Northern New Mexico College was established as a constitutional entity by the New Mexico Territorial Legislature in 1909. Its original mission was training teachers for the State's Spanish speaking population. In 1977 Northern was designated a community college. In 2004, legislative approval and accreditation allowed Northern to become the first community college in the state of New Mexico to offer a four-year degree, a BA in Elementary Education. In 2005, legislation was enacted that permitted Northern to offer four-year degrees in any program deemed necessary. The name was then changed to Northern New Mexico College.

Faculty Philosophy

The faculty performs a significant role in the governance of the College. It is the essential and continuing instrument through which the educational process occurs. Within its area of responsibility are the following functions:

1. Instruction and student advisement.
2. Consultation and advisement with the President, Provost, Deans, Chairs, and administrators via the duly constituted committees of the Faculty Senate and the committees of the institution.
3. Contribution of expertise and knowledge affecting issues, problems and goals of the institution.
4. Participation in the:
 - a. Selection of Faculty, President, Provost, Deans, and Key Administrators.
 - b. Determination of programs of instruction and related curricula.
 - c. Ongoing review of the institutional mission, philosophy and goals.

5. Establishment of admission standards.
6. Establishment of graduation requirements.

The faculty is responsible for, and committed to, the following:

1. Knowledge of subject matter and instructional skills.
2. The development and maintenance of relevant curricula, as well as methods of instruction.
3. Relative autonomy, independence and integrity for each individual faculty member in the performance of their instructional duties.
4. A high level of dedication and sense of responsibility toward faculty duties, the students, and the instructional objectives.

Handbook Revision Policy

The procedure for revisions to the Faculty Handbook is as follows:

1. Changes may be initiated by Faculty or Administration. Conditions of employment for faculty members under the bargaining unit can only be modified after bargaining negotiations take place and the CBA is ratified by the Federation and Board of Regents.
2. Any proposed changes are presented to the Faculty Senate who will refer them to the Personnel Committee. The Personnel Committee will review proposed changes and will then present changes to the Faculty Senate for further discussion and approval by a majority vote.
3. The Faculty Senate President presents the Faculty Handbook revisions to the Provost. The Provost will ensure that the proposed handbook policies do not conflict with other college policies. The Provost may accept the revisions or send the proposal back to the Faculty Senate Personnel Committee with comments for modification.
4. The President of the College or a designee will approve the revisions in writing and present them to the Board for consideration and/or final approval after the 15 -day all-campus review and comment period established in the institutional policy 1100.
5. The proposed and approved changes will become effective when approved by the Board of Regents.
6. Once approved, the faculty handbook will be posted on the NNMC website, in the online Policy and Procedures Manual, and announced via Broadcast to the entire campus community.

Part I. College Governance and Organization

I. A. The Board of Regents

The primary responsibility of governance rests with the Board of Regents. This is a Board of five persons appointed by the Governor. Its basic duties include budget approval, policy approval, selection of the President, approval of all programs including major revisions and deletions, approval of all construction, and general oversight of the total operation of the institution. The Board works through the President who is responsible for the day-to-day administrative activities, which include making recommendations to the Board and implementing its policy decisions.

I. B. Faculty Governance

The faculty shares a responsibility for the governance of the institution with the President and the administrative staff. This responsibility is defined as consultative-advisory in nature. The more the subject concerns instructional matter and/or faculty welfare, the larger the faculty role. In general, however, the Faculty shall govern itself and participate in the governance of the institution in the following manner:

1. The organizational structure and mechanism by which the Faculty carries out responsibilities and duties as an advisory and consultative body is contained in a document known as "The Constitution and By-Laws of The Faculty of Northern New Mexico College" (see appendix).
2. The "Constitution and By-Laws" creates the structure of the Faculty Senate and standing committees both of which address issues that are of significant concern to the Faculty.
3. Matters of concern to the Faculty, as the instrument through which the instructional process takes place, will be considered by the Faculty. Instructional matters, including but not limited to the establishment of curriculum and programs, the development of policies regarding the granting of degrees, certificates and credits, and all matters impinging upon the development and delivery of instruction shall be referred to the Faculty for study and consideration.
4. The "Constitution and By-Laws" spell out the authority of the Faculty, the Faculty Senate and its committees.

I. C. Faculty Appointment to Institutional Committees

The College President or designee shall determine which institutional (non-Faculty Senate) committees will be established and the responsibilities of those committees.

Part II. The Faculty

Northern New Mexico College employs qualified and competent faculty members to accomplish the mission, vision, and goals of the institution. When determining acceptable qualifications of its faculty, the College gives primary consideration to the highest earned degree in the discipline in accordance with the guidelines listed below. The College also considers competence, effectiveness, and professional capacity, including, as appropriate, professional licensure and certifications, undergraduate and graduate degrees, related work experiences in the field, professional honors and awards, academic and/or regional community service, continuous documented excellence in teaching. Other demonstrated competencies and achievements that contribute to effective teaching, student learning outcomes, and institutional advancement are considered. In all cases, while the faculty can assist in evaluating the qualifications of faculty candidates, the Provost is ultimately responsible for justifying and documenting the qualifications of the College's faculty.

II. A. Definition of Faculty

Northern New Mexico College faculty shall consist of all persons who teach in the academic and career technical division of the College. Faculty appointments and privileges vary according to the nature and rights and responsibilities, term of appointment, assignments, rank, governance and administrative roles. Because of this variance, what follows is a series of definitions that clarify the meaning and application of the terms:

1. Tenured Faculty

Tenured faculty are those individuals who are full-time faculty, have been granted tenure, and are performing instructional duties. They are hired under a faculty contract and are compensated as faculty. Tenure provides continuing employment. In contrast, non-tenured faculty do not have a continuing right of employment. Faculty with tenure have the rank of Associate Professor. Tenured faculty are still subject to all requirements for satisfactory performance and faculty member discipline.

2. Probationary Faculty (Tenure Track)

Probationary faculty are those individuals who are full-time faculty, have not been granted tenure, and are performing instructional duties. They are hired under a faculty contract and are compensated as faculty. They are on tenure track and hold the rank of Assistant Professor unless a different rank is determined by the Provost at the time of initial offer of employment. The rank determined by the Provost cannot exceed the rank held at a previous academic institution. Probationary status, by its very nature, means that the faculty member has no continuing expectation of employment.

3. Part-time Faculty

Part-time faculty are persons employed on a faculty contract with a portion (normally one-half) of the workload and are compensated on a pro-rated basis including fringe benefits. They may be tenured or non-tenured and may also hold part-time status as staff.

4. Lecturers

Lecturers are faculty appointed on an annual basis and hired under a faculty contract. Appointments of lecturers follow the recommendation of the Dean and the approval of the Provost. A lecturer is not eligible for tenure. A lecturer holds a minimum of a master's degree and is at the beginning level in college and university teaching. Special certification or exceptional scholarly, creative and/or professional achievements may also justify appointment or promotion. Exceptions to these requirements may be made by the Provost upon presentation of evidence of a record of experience or other credentials that indicate academic degree equivalence.

5. Instructors

Instructors are faculty appointed on an annual basis and hired under a faculty contract. Instructors are normally hired in Career and Technical Education Programs. Appointments of instructors follow the recommendation of the Dean and the approval of the Provost. Appropriate certification, licensure, and/or professional achievements may justify appointment.

6. Visiting Faculty

Visiting faculty are faculty who have a full-time or part-time appointment. Such appointments may extend to an annual contract and may be renewed for a subsequent year with the recommendation of the Dean and the approval of the Provost. This position is not tenure eligible. A visiting faculty holds a minimum of a master's degree. Special certification or exceptional scholarly, creative and/or professional achievements may also justify appointment or promotion. Exceptions to these requirements may be made by the Provost upon presentation of evidence of a record of experience or other credentials that indicate academic degree equivalence.

7. Research Faculty

Research faculty are those individuals whose responsibilities are focused on research. These appointments are funded through internal and external sources with the majority of the support derived from research grants obtained by the faculty member. A research faculty member is not eligible for tenure. A research professor holds a terminal degree. Special certification or exceptional scholarly, creative and/or professional achievements may also justify appointment or promotion. Exceptions to these requirements may be made by the Provost upon presentation of evidence of a record of experience or other credentials that indicate academic degree equivalence.

8. Adjunct Faculty

An adjunct instructor is appointed on a term contract for instructional, temporary and part-time assignments. They are not assigned to other responsibilities such as professional service or college service. They have no right to reappointment. Persons appointed at this rank will vary in minimal academic qualifications but generally shall have a relevant doctoral or equivalent terminal degree to teach at the upper division and graduate level, and a master's degree for lower division courses. All degrees shall be from accredited institutions or from internationally reputable and recognized institutions. Exceptions to these requirements may be made by the Provost upon presentation of evidence of a record of experience or other credentials that indicate academic degree equivalence. Adjunct Faculty members can only serve as Faculty Senators if they teach during the current semester or have taught within the last fiscal year.

9. Faculty Chairpersons

Faculty chairpersons are faculty, probationary or permanent, who have a reduced teaching load with additional compensation. They are responsible for the management and supervision of an instructional department comprised of more than one degree or certificate program. Chairs report to their respective Deans. Probationary tenure-track faculty member who becomes a Chair, will keep tenure-track status, and will return to their faculty assignment if he/she no longer serves as a Chair. In addition, the term/s served as Chair will be counted toward tenure. The tenured faculty member who becomes a Chair, will keep their Tenure status and will return to their faculty assignment if he/she no longer serves as a Chair.

10. Faculty Directors

Faculty directors are faculty, probationary or permanent, who have a reduced teaching load with additional compensation. They are responsible for the management and supervision of a specific instructional program(s) (degree or certificate) under the supervision of the department Chairperson or Dean. Probationary tenure-track faculty member who becomes a Director, will keep tenure-track status, and will return to their faculty assignment if he/she no longer serves as a Director. In addition, the term/s served as Director will be counted toward tenure. The tenured faculty member who becomes a Director, will keep their tenure status and will return to their faculty assignment if he/she no longer serves as a Director.

11. Deans

Deans are the head of an Academic College. They are ex-officio faculty within their discipline's College. They are encouraged to participate in all meetings, including Faculty Senate committees, and deliberations of the faculty on instructional matters. Deans cannot vote at any Faculty Senate committee meetings or Faculty Senate meetings. Deans are not eligible to become Senators, Faculty Senate Officers or Faculty Senate Committee Chairs. The Tenured faculty member who becomes a Dean, will keep their Tenure status and will return to their faculty assignment if he/she no longer serves as a Dean.

12. The Provost

The Provost is the chief academic officer of the College and is responsible for all education, research, and public service efforts of the College's faculty as well as the College's libraries and other academically related units of the College. The Provost is a member of the general faculty and of the faculty within their discipline's College. The Tenured faculty member who becomes a Provost, will keep their Tenure status and will return to their faculty assignment if he/she no longer serves as a Provost.

13. Emeritus Faculty

Emeritus faculty is an honorary designation conferred on senior academic faculty at the time of their retirement from the College to honor extraordinary contributions to the College over the course of their careers. Tenured faculty who have retired with at least five years of service to the College may be eligible. All nominations for emeritus status are subject to the approval of the Provost, President and the Board of Regents.

II. B. Classification of Faculty and Instructional Categories

The faculty at Northern New Mexico College has many diverse assignments in fields encompassing traditional academic units, career-technical education, and the creative arts. The College values the entire faculty and recognizes the unique contribution of each faculty member. This diversity requires different responsibilities and educational credentials depending on the faculty member's department and its mission.

The responsibilities of individual faculty members will vary and will be specified in position descriptions developed at the time of the initial appointment and revised periodically as necessary.

1. Academic Division

a. Assistant Professor

An assistant professor holding a doctoral degree, or a terminal degree in his or her teaching discipline or related discipline, or a master's degree with no less than 18 graduate credits in the teaching or related discipline, is eligible for the rank of assistant professor. Consideration for promotion shall require evidence of excellence in teaching, years of teaching experience, and a demonstrated commitment to scholarship, professional activity, and service. All degrees shall be from accredited institutions or from internationally reputable and recognized institutions. Special certification or exceptional scholarly, creative and/or professional achievements may also justify appointment or promotion. Exceptions to these requirements may be made by the Provost upon presentation of evidence of a record of experience or other credentials that indicate academic degree equivalence.

b. Associate Professor

An associate professor (a senior rank in the college faculty) holds an earned doctorate, a master's degree with no less than 18 graduate courses in the teaching discipline, or other appropriate terminal degree from an accredited institution, shows demonstrated teaching excellence, and has evidence of scholarly or research activity, professional activity, and service. All degrees shall be from accredited institutions or from internationally reputable recognized institutions. Special certification or exceptional scholarly, creative and/or professional achievements may also justify appointment or promotion. Exceptions to these requirements may be made by the Provost upon presentation of evidence of a record of experience or other credentials that indicate academic degree equivalence.

Promotion to the rank of Associate Professor is attained with the awarding of tenure.

II. C. Minimum Faculty Qualifications by Program

To be qualified to teach in a respective field of study, the following minimum academic credentials are required:

1. Career Technical and Occupational Courses Not Intended for Transfer

Certification, licensure, and/or professional achievements from a recognized institution or documentation of demonstrated competencies and experience in the teaching field, e.g., work experience in the field, licensure, industry certification, honors, and awards.

2. Associate of Applied Science in Trade Degree Programs

Either: A minimum of a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution in the teaching field or related field,

Or: An associate's degree from an accredited institution in the teaching discipline or related field or documentation of demonstrated competencies and experience in the teaching field (e.g., work experience in the field, licensure, industry certification, honors and awards, or other demonstrated competencies and achievements).

3. Developmental Courses

Either: A minimum of a master's degree from an accredited institution in the teaching field or related field.

Or: A bachelor's degree from an accredited institution in the teaching discipline or related field plus documentation of demonstrated competencies E.g., work experience in the field, licensure, industry certification, honors and awards.

4. Associate of Applied Science/Associate of Engineering Degree Programs:

A master's degree in the relevant discipline from an accredited institution.

5. Associate of Science or Associate of Arts Degree Programs

A master's degree in the relevant discipline from an accredited institution.

A doctorate or a master's degree from an accredited institution with a minimum of 18 graduate credit hours concentrated ~~in the teaching~~ relevant discipline. All faculty, tenure-track and non-tenure-track, and part-time faculty teaching upper division courses in the baccalaureate programs must meet this criterion.
- 7. Post-baccalaureate Courses
A doctorate or other terminal degree in the relevant discipline from an accredited institution.
- 8. Program-specific Accreditation
Faculty teaching in programs with specific accrediting requirements must meet the minimum criteria for faculty qualifications recommended by the accrediting agency.
- 9. Exceptions
Qualified faculty are identified in part by credentials, but there are limitations to considering only the degrees earned. Academic disciplines, degree programs, and curricula are not static. Because of changing academic, societal and workforce needs, colleges and universities are developing interdisciplinary and other nontraditional programs that require faculty to think beyond their own disciplines and traditional academic programs to determine what students should know and to design curricula accordingly. In those cases, as well as in practice-oriented disciplines, including courses in the Studio Arts or in Health, Physical Education Recreation (HPER) fields, tested and significant experience in the field may be used.

The Chairs of the Department or Deans of the Colleges, with the approval of the Provost, may identify qualified faculty who do not hold the prescribed credentials but are considered experts in their field. A tested experience form will be completed in such cases and these faculty members may be considered for appointment.

The tested experience process will demonstrate that the potential faculty member shall a) have more than five years of supervised experience in the industry or field of the course that they will be teaching, or b) have a certification and/or licensure by a recognized certifying or licensing state, industry, or national agency in the field or industry that they will be teaching, or c) have on the job training in the industry or be an expert in the field (including academia, different from teaching alone) of the course that he/she will be teaching.

Evidence could include a letter from a current or previous employer, record of research, scholarship, or achievement.

II. D. Policies on Tenure, Meaning of Tenure, Promotion, and Seniority

Tenured faculty and probationary faculty that serve as Chair, Director, or Coordinator and their appointment is terminated, will resume their position as tenured or probationary tenure-track faculty member. Chair appointments are at-will. In addition, the tenure timeline will remain intact, reflecting date of initial hire, including their time as Chair, Director, or Coordinator.

1. Tenure

General Guidelines

- a. Tenure Track: Appointment to the tenure track is made at the time of the initial appointment to the rank of Assistant Professor unless a different rank is determined by the Provost at the time of initial offer of employment. The rank determined by the Provost cannot exceed the rank held at a previous academic institution. All faculty positions at this level at the time of their appointment shall be considered tenure track. Faculty on the tenure track must be classified as full-time, which is denoted by service on a 100% workload basis for a fiscal or an academic year contract.
- b. Annual Review of Faculty: This review is intended to facilitate non-tenured faculty toward tenure and tenured faculty toward promotion.
- c. Evaluation of Candidates for Promotion and Tenure: For promotion and tenure, candidates will be evaluated by the committee for evidence of excellence in their performance of assigned duties that include teaching, advising, institutional and community service, and mastery of discipline and scholarship.
- d. Purpose of Tenure: Tenure insures the academic freedom that is essential to an atmosphere of intellectual pursuit and the attainment of excellence in the college. In addition, tenure also reflects and recognizes a candidate's potential long-term value to the institution, as evidenced by professional performance. tenure will be granted to faculty members whose character and achievements in serving the College's mission warrant the institution's reciprocal long-term commitment.

- e. Meaning of tenure: Upon being awarded tenure, the faculty member attains the status of presumed continued employment as a member of the faculty, except for reasons of just cause or where conditions exist beyond the College's control.

- g. Date of Eligibility for Tenure: Tenure is granted for achievement in academic and professional pursuits, not for years of service. Faculty members will be considered for tenure in their fifth year, but no later than their seventh year on tenure track. If tenure is not granted, the faculty member may be offered a one-year terminal contract. Under extenuating circumstances, such as illness, a faculty member can request of the chair of the Tenure Committee that the tenure timetable be extended. The Tenure Committee will make a recommendation to the Provost, who will make the final decision on the recommendation. Time spent in the capacity as an adjunct faculty cannot be counted as time toward tenure.

- h. Faculty Previously Tenured at NNMC or Other Institutions: Faculty members hired into a tenure-track position, who have already earned tenure from NNMC or a former institution, may be appointed with tenure at NNMC upon recommendation from the department following the procedures described below, after a probationary period of at least one year.

Faculty who were hired into a tenure-track position at a previous college or university may be credited with the years of experience at that institution towards tenure.

Applications may be submitted to the Tenure Committee by the second week in January and must include the following documents:

- Letter of application for tenure at NNMC
- Official documentation confirming tenure status at previous institution
- Summary of accomplishments at NNMC in the four areas of evaluation (teaching, advising, service, and scholarship)
- Current CV
- Letter of recommendation from Chair or Dean
- Letters of recommendation from two tenured NNMC faculty (within one's department, if possible)

- Letters of recommendation from students, external references, faculty or staff (optional)

The Tenure Committee will forward its evaluation of the tenure transfer application to the Provost by the third week in February and will report the results of the evaluation to the faculty applying for tenure transfer the results of the evaluation. If the Tenure Committee does not recommend tenure transfer, the committee will include in its report an explanation for this decision.

Once the recommendation for tenure transfer has been submitted to the Provost, the tenure transfer application will follow the tenure timeline and procedures as outlined in the section “Timeline for Advancement to Tenure” in Part II.D.1.

Academic Division Criteria for Tenure and Promotion

All faculty seeking promotion and tenure in academic departments must hold a terminal degree in their area of expertise, or a master’s degree with no less than 18 graduate credits in the teaching, or related discipline, to be determined by the Office of the Provost in consultation with the department or college according to accreditation criteria.

Tenure and Promotion Council

During the fall of the academic year, a five-member Tenure and Promotion Council will be elected from the Tenured Faculty of the Academic Division of the College. All tenured faculty are eligible to serve on the Council with no more than one representative from a department. The Council member will serve a three-year term. With the approval of the Provost and in consultation with the appropriate Dean, the Tenure and Promotion Council may include non-voting members who are external tenured faculty members with other institutions as consultants in the area of expertise of the applicant.

If a Tenure Council member is aware of a conflict of interest, he or she has an obligation to recuse his or herself from the review of a particular applicant. The Tenure Committee can also request that a Tenure Council member recuse his or herself by a majority vote. In addition, a faculty member can only vote on the Tenure and Promotion Council if he or she has not voted on the candidate at the departmental level.

Timeline for Advancement to Tenure

a. Eligible faculty members in their 5th year but no later than 7th year on the tenure track must meet college-wide criteria and additional specific criteria published by their departments. See Section "General Guidelines" for the timeline applicable to faculty hired under the 2008 Faculty Handbook. Department Chairs will provide a current copy of the criteria for promotion and tenure to each tenured and tenure track faculty member in their department, to the Tenure Committee, and to the Office of the Provost. To apply for promotion and/or tenure, the eligible faculty member (hereafter candidate) will provide a dossier to the department chair by the last week in September. The candidate will prepare a dossier (no more than one three-inch-thick, three-ring binder plus any supporting materials) showing fulfillment of the tenure requirements. If no chair is present, the dean will designate a tenured faculty member (preferably within the department) to initiate the departmental review. The dean can also serve as the convener. We henceforth denote the chair or designee as the convener.

b. The convener and tenured faculty within the department will have until the end of the third week in October to evaluate the dossier. The evaluation will include a record of all votes (for, against, abstention and absent) in the departmental review of the candidate. The convener also records the justification for the final departmental decision referencing the strengths and weaknesses of the candidate.

c. The convener sends a letter to the candidate and Tenure and Promotion Council, summarizing the departmental review by the fourth week in October. The candidate's dossier is also given to the Tenure and Promotion Council. The convener on behalf of the department will provide a completed rubric or evaluation tool which summarizes the evaluation of the candidate by the department.

d. By the first week of the spring semester, the Tenure and Promotion Council sends its recommendations to the Dean and Provost, along with the recommendation of the department. Tenure candidates must receive at least one positive recommendation from either the department or the Tenure and Promotion Council in order for the candidate's tenure application to be considered for tenure review by the Provost. Candidates who do not receive a positive recommendation from either the department or the Tenure and Promotion Council will not be recommended for tenure.

e. By the third week of the Spring semester, the Office of the Provost informs the faculty member of the recommendation (positive or negative) in writing.

Actions of the Board of Regents

Tenure is awarded only by positive action of the Board of Regents upon recommendation of tenure by the President. Such action must be taken no later than the seventh probationary year, on or before April 30th. Following the Board of Regents' action, the Provost provides official notification to the candidates and their supervisors, Chairperson, Dean, and to the chair of the Tenure and Promotion Council. Assistant Professors who are granted tenure will be promoted to the rank of Associate Professors.

Denial of Tenure

If tenure is not awarded, the faculty member may be offered a one-year terminal contract.

Denial of recommendation of tenure by the Provost or following positive recommendation by Tenure and Promotions Council. If in the course of tenure application, both the department and Tenure and Promotions Council make a positive recommendation to the Provost, and the faculty member is denied a recommendation of tenure by the Provost or President, that faculty member may appeal to the Board of Regents the decision-within 10 working days from the date of notification in writing that the Provost or President has denied a recommendation of tenure.

Privileges of Tenured Faculty

a. The appointment of a tenured faculty member shall run until the member's separation from employment with the College, subject to the following limitations: Any dismissal or non-renewal of the contract of a tenured member of the faculty shall follow the procedure discussed in Part II.D.

b. Sabbatical leave may be granted to tenured faculty members in accordance with Part III.C.

c. Tenured faculty members appointed to administrative positions will retain tenure status as faculty. If a tenured faculty member serving in an administrative position returns to a faculty position for which they are qualified, that tenured faculty member returns to the position with tenure.

2. Criteria for Appointment to Emeritus Status

Proposals for emeritus designation must be initiated by a faculty member or other appropriate group, such as the Honors Committee of the Faculty Senate, and submitted for evaluation and recommendation by the Provost. If recommended by the Provost, the President shall review and forward the recommendation to the Board of Regents. The Board of Regents shall make the decision on the granting of emeritus status to the nominee. The decision of the Board of Regents shall be final and not subject to further review.

Nominees for Emeritus Faculty must meet the following criteria:

- Be eligible to retire and have submitted an intent to retire to the Provost
- Be tenured at NNMC and have five consecutive years of full-time, tenured faculty service at NNMC prior to retirement
- Have shown excellence in teaching or administration
- Have contributed service to the college, the community, or the professional discipline

Privileges of Emeritus Faculty

The privileges and responsibilities of emeritus faculty are subject to any legal and/or New Mexico Higher Education Department and/or college restrictions. In addition, emeritus faculty receive:

- a. Assigned office space for research or scholarship, if available
- b. A listing with the faculty in the college catalogues, website, and other appropriate publications
- c. Attendance at campus events open to college employees
- d. Receipt of special campus publications, announcements, and event invitations as determined by the President
- e. Invitations to participate in public ceremonies, commencement, processions, and convocations
- f. Participation in appropriate campus seminars, colloquia, lectures, ad hoc committees, and other scholarly pursuits
- g. Use of college recreation/social facilities in accordance with college policy.
- h. Library and email privileges

3. Criteria for Promotions in Faculty Rank within the Academic Division

Criteria for Promotion from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor:

Faculty seeking promotion to the rank of Associate Professor shall hold an earned doctorate or other appropriate terminal degree granted by an accredited institution of higher learning. A master's level or bachelor's degree may be considered appropriate for some departments and will be determined by individual departments or colleges. The Tenure and Promotion Council will consider evidence of the following:

- Demonstrated effectiveness in teaching, assessment, scholarly activities, advising, and other assigned duties
- Appropriate institutional, public, and professional service

- Positive engagement in individual discipline

3. Seniority

Seniority shall be defined as the total length of time of continuous full-time employment in a tenure-track position at the College. Seniority credit shall commence with the full-time faculty member's most recent date of full-time employment. Time spent on paid leave shall be counted for seniority purposes. Time spent on approved unpaid leave shall not constitute a break in continuous service but shall not be counted for seniority purposes. The College will maintain a seniority list of all faculty members ranked in order of seniority within each contractual academic discipline. Seniority shall be forfeited in circumstances, including, but not limited to resignation, termination, or retirement. Seniority is not lost in the situations below:

- a. A faculty member is part of a reduction in force and is subsequently rehired. In such a situation, the individual retains the seniority he or she had when terminated.
- b. A faculty member moves into an administrative position and back to a faculty position. In such a situation, the individual accrues seniority as if he or she stayed in a faculty position.

II. E. Contracts

1. Academic Calendar and Work Year

The work year is normally defined by the academic calendar, which is approved by the Administration. The academic calendar for Fall shall begin with the convocation week and shall end with the date that final grades are due for the Spring semester. Faculty are required to attend the Fall and Spring convocation week events and the Fall and Spring Graduation ceremonies. The following holidays will be observed during the term of this Agreement:

- a. Labor Day
- b. Fall Break as defined in the Academic Calendar
- c. Veteran's Day
- d. Thanksgiving, the Wednesday prior, and the Friday following
- e. All days when the college is closed for Winter Break
- f. Martin Luther King's Birthday
- g. Good Friday
- h. Spring Break as defined in the Academic Calendar.

2. Outside Employment

The primary responsibility of faculty members is to render to the College, their most effective commitment to teaching, scholarship, and service. At the same time, consulting and other outside activities of a professional nature are encouraged by the college where such activities give the faculty member experience and knowledge valuable to professional growth and development. These activities may help the faculty member make worthy contributions to knowledge, or contribute to instructional programs, or otherwise make a positive contribution to the College, community, or profession (discipline).

No outside service or enterprise, professional, or other, should be undertaken that interferes with the faculty member's primary responsibility to the College. While a faculty member is allowed to engage in outside professional activities, this must be clearly subordinate to their teaching, advising, scholarly activities, and College service responsibilities.

The following considerations should be made regarding outside activities. Such planning is in the best interest of the faculty member, the Academic Unit, and the College. A full-time faculty member's position with the College shall be his primary source of employment. The categories for the various degrees of involvement in outside activities are listed below.

a. The faculty member does not have to inform their supervisor or Dean nor obtain approval. This category would consist of activities such as attending professional meetings, writing books, giving occasional speeches and lectures, refereeing manuscripts, and outside activities that are personal.

b. The faculty member would be required to inform their supervisor or Dean in writing, but would not be required to obtain approval. This category would consist of activities such as occasional outside consulting activities, holding office in scholarly or professional organizations, assuming editorial duties for a journal.

c. The faculty member would be required to inform their Dean in writing and shall obtain prior approval from the Provost if the activities would have potential to conflict with job assignments. This category would consist of activities such as consulting more than one day per month, teaching for another institution, pursuing a degree or licensure, working a second job, or operating a personal business.

This approval will be documented with the Human Resources department.

Faculty members involved in outside employment activity must complete an outside employment disclosure form at the time of outside employment. If an activity presents a potential conflict of interest, it will be handled according to the Code of Conduct policy.

3. Summer Employment

Tenured and tenure-track faculty members shall be given the first opportunity to sign up for a section during the summer session.

Full-time faculty members selected for summer employment will be paid in accordance with Part III.A.

4. Facilities, Equipment and Support

Subject to available funding, the College will provide classroom space, office space, library access, internet connection, access to the learning management system (LMS) when appropriate, equipment, and materials to aid in the faculty member's performance.

5. Health and Safety

The College will comply with all applicable State and Federal laws relating to safe working conditions. Whenever a faculty member becomes aware of a condition which the faculty member feels is a violation of an institutional safety or health rule or regulation, or Board policy regarding work environment and discrimination; the faculty member will report such condition to an appropriate administrator who will promptly investigate such conditions and, if appropriate, remediate in a timely manner.

Protective devices and first aid equipment will be provided to faculty members who practice in a hazardous institutional environment. The faculty members will be responsible for the proper use of such devices.

II. F. Faculty Responsibilities and Duties

1. Faculty Workloads

Faculty workloads shall be distributed among all faculty members. The preparation of teaching schedules shall be the responsibility of the Dean and the Department Chairperson. The Dean and the Chairpersons will consider recommendations from faculty members. The College shall continue to notify the faculty member of their tentative teaching schedule. Changes in faculty member's teaching schedule may be made as the need arises and faculty shall be notified of said changes. The final determination of teaching schedules shall be made exclusively by the College. Monitoring of workloads is the responsibility of the supervisor and is intended to ensure that responsibilities are equally distributed. With approval of the Provost, the Dean may grant release time for special assignments or responsibilities.

Normal working hours are between 8:00 am and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday, unless the faculty member teaches evening or weekend classes, in which case the hours must be kept as appropriate for that faculty member's normal teaching schedule. Any proposed deviation from these requirements must be justified in writing and approved by both the Chair and the Dean.

The College does not attempt to enforce an eight-hour working day for faculty. However, faculty members are employed on a full-time basis and are required to be available when they are under contract during normal working hours including periods when classes are not in session and the college is open.

Chairs, Directors, and Coordinators are required to attend the Fall and Spring convocation week events and the Fall and Spring Graduation ceremonies.

The workload distribution will be determined in coordination with the supervisor based on the following four criteria:

- Teaching effectiveness. The teaching of students is central to the mission of NNMC. Given the mission of the College, candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching, including assessment of student learning. Classes are to be met as scheduled including final exam week.
- Advising. Faculty must be committed to the academic well-being of students. Effective advising helps create an environment that fosters student learning and student retention.
- Service to the College community. Faculty members are expected to provide service to the College, its students, programs, and professional disciplines, as collegial and constructive members of the College and the broader community.
- Scholarship, mastery of discipline, professional development, and research. All faculty should be positively engaged in their disciplines and should be recognized for their expertise.

In particular, the teaching load is determined with the following parameters:

Academic Year Teaching Load

The normal teaching load for tenured and tenure-track full-time faculty is twelve (12) credit hours per semester. The normal teaching load for lecturers and instructors is fifteen (15) credit hours per semester. When appropriate or mandated by an outside governing body, the supervisor may approve 12 contact-hours for tenured and tenure-track faculty members as an exchange of physical presence on Campus for student advisement, accreditation, recruitment or other activities.

Release time may be granted by the Dean with approval of the Provost for program/departmental initiatives that include program development, grants writing and/or grants management.

When a faculty member is teaching two or more scheduled classes at the same time (e.g., cross-listed courses), only one of the classes will be counted in the workload computation. In special situations, such as co-op courses, lab courses, and practicums, the workload credit hours shall be computed by the Chairperson or Dean with the Provost's approval.

Full-time faculty members shall be present on campus for all professional duties and obligations, including but not limited to classes, departmental meetings, accreditation work, and faculty meetings called by the Dean/Provost or President. Full-time faculty shall schedule a minimum of five (5) hours per week, in person on campus, for office hours. Office hours shall be posted on their office door and on the Department Website.

Chairs teaching load is 3-4 credit hours per semester and directors teaching load is 6 credit hours. The New Mexico Board of Nursing mandates that at least 80% of the Associate Degree in Nursing Program administrator assignment shall be spent in the administration of the nursing program. Additional administrative time should be given when preparing for accreditation, curriculum revision and other administrative activities. The teaching load shall not exceed 20% of total workload.

Teaching Overload

When a faculty member teaches in excess of assigned teaching load during a semester, the department Chair or Dean may approve the overload. The compensation for an overload is addressed in Part III.A. When appropriate or mandated by an outside governing body, supervisor may approve contact-hours instead of credit hours for Chairs, Directors, and Coordinators as an exchange of physical presence on Campus for student advisement, accreditation, recruitment or other activities.

Student Advising

Each faculty member shall serve as an advisor to students. Advisors shall assist students in course selection, scheduling, and in meeting requirements for certificate or degree programs. When necessary, students shall be referred to the appropriate support services for assistance. Full-time faculty shall schedule advisement hours every semester. Advisement hours shall be posted on their office door and on Self Service Banner (SSB).

Class cancellations

In order to meet accreditation standards, faculty members shall not cancel scheduled classes in any circumstances without prior written supervisor approval. Attendance that is approved in advance by the program or department chair, instructors should find an acceptable substitute for their classes or obtain the chair's approval for an alternate means of making up the student contact hours. For unanticipated absences such as illness or family emergency, faculty members must notify the program or department chair or academic dean as soon as possible so that arrangements can be made regarding classes and other scheduled activities. Faculty members should find an acceptable substitute for their classes or obtain the chair's approval for an alternate means of making up the student contact hours. Failure to notify the program or department chair of a missed class meeting or excessive absences from class obligations can result in disciplinary action.

Course delivery/schedule changes

Faculty members shall not change the delivery method of instruction or the approved schedule of classes and assigned classroom under any circumstances without prior written supervisor approval and without advance notification to the office of the registrar.

Academic year contract

Faculty members are engaged and paid on the basis of an academic year contract, including days when the College is open and classes are not in session. Supervisors may require attendance any day during the term of the contract.

Contract length

Chairs, directors and coordinators will be issued a contract for one academic year (9-months). For additional months of service, the College will issue a supplemental contract.

2. Faculty Responsibilities and Duties

Professional Ethics

Faculty members shall demonstrate respect for the students, college faculty members, staff members, college administrators, and other members of the college community in their role as intellectual guides, foster honest academic conduct, and promote an atmosphere that is conducive to learning and the acquisition of scholarly standards. They shall strive to help each student realize his or her potential as a worthy and effective member of society.

Collegial Respect

Faculty member will demonstrate respect for their colleagues, uphold academic ethics, collaborate, and model the culture of the academy. II. G. Academic Freedom, Faculty Member Investigations, and Progressive Discipline

1. Academic Freedom

The personal life of a faculty member is not a proper concern of the College, provided that it does not adversely affect or interfere with the faculty member's effectiveness in fulfilling his or her professional obligations.

The College is committed to the promotion of responsible academic freedom for its faculty and students. The major premise of academic freedom is that open inquiry and expression by faculty and students is essential to the College's mission. Academic freedom shall be understood to include but not be limited to the following:

- Academic freedom means that both faculty members and students can engage in intellectual debate without fear of censorship or retaliation.
- Academic freedom establishes a faculty member's right to remain true to his or her pedagogical philosophy and intellectual commitments. It preserves the intellectual integrity of our educational system and thus serves the public good.
- Academic freedom in teaching means that both faculty members and students can make comparisons and contrasts between subjects taught in a course and any field of human knowledge or period of history.
- Academic freedom gives both students and faculty the right to express their views — in speech, writing, and through electronic communication, both on and off campus — without fear of sanction, unless the manner of expression substantially impairs the rights of others or, in the case of faculty members, those views demonstrate that they are professionally ignorant, incompetent, or dishonest with regard to their discipline or fields of expertise.
- Academic freedom gives both students and faculty the right to study and do research on the topics they choose and to draw what conclusions they find consistent with their research, though it does not prevent others from judging whether their work is valuable and their conclusions sound. To protect academic freedom, universities should oppose efforts by corporate or government sponsors to block dissemination of any research findings.
- Academic freedom means that the political, religious, or philosophical beliefs of politicians, administrators, and members of the public cannot be imposed on students or faculty.

- Academic freedom gives faculty members and students the right to seek redress or request a hearing if they believe their rights have been violated.
- Academic freedom protects faculty members and students from reprisals for disagreeing with administrative policies or proposals.
- Academic freedom gives faculty members and students the right to challenge one another's views, but not to penalize them for holding them.
- Academic freedom protects a faculty member's authority to assign grades to students, so long as the grades are not capricious or unjustly punitive. More broadly, academic freedom encompasses both the individual and institutional right to maintain academic standards.
- Academic freedom gives faculty members substantial latitude in deciding how to teach the courses for which they are responsible.
- Academic freedom guarantees that serious charges against a faculty member will be heard before a committee of his or her peers. It provides faculty members the right to due process, including the assumption that the burden of proof lies with those who brought the charges, that faculty have the right to present counter-evidence and confront their accusers, and be assisted by an attorney in serious cases if they choose.
- Academic freedom includes the assessment of student academic performance, including the assignment of particular grades and the following principles in assigning grades: (1) the individual faculty member has the responsibility for the assignment of grades; (2) students should be free from prejudicial or capricious grading; and (3) if the faculty member does not initiate a change of grade, no grade may be assigned or changed without following the Grade Appeal Process of NNMC. The review of a student complaint over a grade should follow the current procedure established by the Academic Standards Committee.

- Academic freedom does not mean a faculty member can harass, threaten, intimidate, ridicule, or impose his or her views on students, college faculty members, staff members, college administrators, and other members of the college community.
- Student academic freedom does not deny faculty members the right to require students to master course material and the fundamentals of the disciplines that faculty teach.
- Neither academic freedom nor tenure protects an incompetent faculty member from losing his or her job. Academic freedom thus does not grant an unqualified guarantee of lifetime employment.
- Academic freedom does not protect faculty members from colleague or student challenges to or disagreement with their educational philosophy and practices.
- Academic freedom does not protect faculty members from non-college penalties if they break the law.
- Academic freedom does not give students or faculty the right to ignore college regulations, though it does give faculty and students the right to criticize regulations they believe are unfair.
- Academic freedom does not protect students or faculty from disciplinary action, but it does require that they receive fair treatment and due process.
- Academic freedom does not protect faculty members from sanctions for professional misconduct, though sanctions require clear proof established through due process.
- Neither academic freedom nor tenure protects a faculty member who repeatedly skips class or refuses to teach the classes or subject matter assigned.
- Academic freedom does not allow a faculty member to prevent a talk or a performance.

- Academic freedom does not protect a faculty member from investigations into allegations of scientific misconduct or violations of sound college policies, nor from appropriate penalties should such charges be sustained in a hearing of record before an elected faculty body.
- Control of presentation includes selection of subject matter including online resources (e.g., publisher's website content) to be covered and of textbooks and other materials to be used. Because these choices are reflected in various administrative concerns, decisions as to topic coverage and selection of texts and materials are subject to the approval of the faculty member's immediate supervisor. Mindful of the importance of academic freedom, the immediate supervisor shall not disapprove a faculty member's decision in these areas arbitrarily or without justifiable cause. In the event faculty members believe disapproval of their texts or materials by their supervisor is unjust, they may appeal to the next higher administrative level as explained in the grievance procedure.

2. Faculty Member Investigations

The College has the right to investigate all allegations of faculty misconduct. A faculty member may be placed on administrative leave with pay during an investigation involving the faculty member. When necessary, during an investigation, the college may enter a faculty member's office. The affected faculty member shall be given reasonable notice prior to entering the faculty member's office. The faculty member may observe, but not interfere with, the college's entry of the office to conduct an investigation. For purposes of this paragraph, reasonable notice shall be at least 24 hours' notice in writing, prior to entry of the office.

Under exigent circumstances such as, but not limited to, an emergency affecting safety and security or allegations of criminal activity, the college may enter a faculty members office to conduct an initial investigation and/or to secure property, data, documentation or other items stored within the office. Within one work day of an entry, the college shall notify the affected faculty member.

During investigation, no documentation or information related to the matter under investigation will be placed in the faculty member's personnel file or released publicly unless required by law. If the investigation does not result in disciplinary action, no documentation will be placed in the faculty member's personnel file. Any actions, other than dismissal, taken by the Administration as a result of such an investigation may be grieved according to Part II.H.

3. Progressive Discipline

The general purpose of discipline is to correct unsatisfactory performance and/or misconduct. Any discipline requires good and just cause. Progressive discipline may be utilized when management determines that the merits of a particular case warrant such an approach. Progressive discipline will not be utilized when management determines that a faculty member's action(s) are so egregious that such an approach is inappropriate.

Progressive discipline starts with the least severe discipline and progresses to more severe discipline depending on the circumstances. Examples of the least severe discipline consist of verbal and written warnings. More severe disciplines consist of written reprimands, suspensions and terminations.

Faculty member may be discharged in accordance with Part II.M.

Discipline is designed to give a faculty member an opportunity to correct employment behavior and performance. Every reasonable effort will be made to ensure acceptable work performance by the faculty member. When problems with the faculty member behavior that affects the workplace or performance arise, a supervisor will seek to correct the problem with the least amount of disruption to the work environment. Serious infractions may result in immediate suspension from work with or without pay.

a. Verbal warning

A faculty member is issued a verbal warning for minor infractions or to correct minor faults in an faculty member's job performance. Verbal warnings are issued during a private conference between the supervisor and the faculty member where the supervisor explains the problem and recommends a process the faculty member must accomplish to return to satisfactory status. The faculty member is informed that the conference is being conducted for the purpose of issuing a verbal warning.

b. Letter of reprimand

Should contain the following information: a description of the specific problem or offense, the most recent incident and when it occurred, previous unsatisfactory behavior or performance related to the reprimand, and a statement that further unsatisfactory behavior or performance may result in further disciplinary action. The written reprimand is issued and discussed with the faculty member in private conference with the supervisor and must have been discussed with the faculty member previously. A copy of the written reprimand will be given to the faculty member and a copy placed in the faculty member's official personnel file. The written reprimand will also specify a review period, if appropriate, in which the faculty member's behavior or performance will be reviewed. The length of the review period will be no longer than one year.

c. Discipline resulting in dismissal must follow Part II.M.

Unapproved absences may result in disciplinary action. Grievances of disciplinary actions are governed by Part II.H.

II. H. Grievances

General Policy

While the College endeavors to maintain pleasant working conditions which lead to cooperative, effective working relationships for all faculty members, it recognizes that misunderstandings and disagreements may arise regarding terms and conditions of employment. However, for questions and complaints not resolved through informal discussions, the College has established a formal Grievance Procedure. The Grievance Procedure is applied only to those matters for which the College has the ability to provide a remedy.

Definitions and Limitations

a. "Grievant" shall mean a faculty member who is personally and directly affected by a condition for which he or she seeks a resolution.

b. A "grievance" shall be an allegation by a faculty member that the treatment he or she has received from a supervisor or other college employee is a violation, a misinterpretation, or an inequitable application of College policy, administrative rules, or procedures that directly and adversely affect the grievant. A single grievance may be submitted jointly by more than one grievant.

c. "Resolution(s)" shall be the proposed written decision by the appropriate administrator(s) in response to the grievance.

d. "Parties in Interest" shall be the grievant and the supervisor or other College faculty member(s) whose conduct or actions are the subject of the grievance.

e. The following situations are not covered by this grievance procedure and are therefore not grievable under this policy:

e.1 The discretionary act(s) of professional judgment relating to the evaluation of the work performance of any faculty member by his or her immediate supervisor;

e.2 Any personnel decision made by the President, including, but not limited to, a discharge, transfer or any other action directly and adversely affecting the employment of the faculty member;

e.3 Situations in which the President or Administrator(s) are without authority to act;

e.4 Situations where the remedy for the alleged violation exclusively resides in some person, agency, or authority other than the President of the College;

II. I. Evaluation of Faculty Performance

Evaluation of faculty members will be consistent with NNMC's Mission, Vision, Strategic Goals, and Core Values.

- a. Annual Evaluation

1. Tenured and tenure-track faculty: All tenured and tenure-track members will participate in an annual evaluation. This evaluation will be formative, with plans implemented to develop and intensify the skills of the faculty member. The annual evaluation of faculty members forms a part of all other forms of evaluation like Post-Tenure review.

2. Instructors, lecturers, visiting professors, and research professors will participate in an annual evaluation. This evaluation will be formative, with plans implemented to develop and intensify the skills of the faculty member.

b. Reappointment Review. All tenure-track and non-tenure-track faculty members out of the Bargaining Unit are considered probationary appointments until granted tenure. Such appointments are subject to renewal on an annual basis at the sole discretion of the College. The decision regarding renewal must be made by May 15th.

Timeline for Evaluation and Reappointment Review

The evaluation for faculty includes two stages: pre-evaluation and evaluation by supervisor. During the tenure and post-tenure review processes, evaluation by the Academic Department (or College when applicable) and by a Tenure Council is added as additional evaluation stages as explained in Part II.D and Part II.J.

a. Faculty members, by the end of the second week of March, will submit a Report of Activities to their supervisor. The supervisor will schedule an evaluation meeting which must be completed before April 30th. Concurrently with the evaluation process, the supervisor will perform the pre-evaluation process which consists only of setting up the goals for the following academic year. For new faculty members, the Pre-evaluation will be done no later than August 30th of their first year.

b. If there is any area in the Evaluation that was rated “unsatisfactory” or “needs improvement”, a corrective action plan will be submitted to the Office of the Provost and the Office of Human Resources no later than May 15th.

II. J. Post Tenure Review

Purpose of Post-tenure Review

The intent and purpose of post-tenure review is to promote continued professional development, to provide the necessary means for enhancing future achievement, and to recognize excellent performance among tenured faculty. A post-tenure review policy is required for the institution to comply with policy as set forth by New Mexico state statute.

Policy

Post-tenure review is a cooperative effort in planning, goal setting, reporting, enhancing, and championing the role of faculty at the institution. It is undertaken with recognition and preservation of principles of academic freedom. It is conducted at the Academic College level for the purposes of 1) recognizing faculty performance; 2) enhancing each individual's future achievement; 3) communicating to the faculty member specific areas in need of improvement (if any) related to performance in scholarship, teaching, advising, and service.

Process:

Post-Tenure Review. Post-tenure review constitutes the evaluation of the faculty member's fulfillment of goals and progress toward both short and long-range goals in teaching, advising, scholarly activity, and service. These shall be formally reviewed according to departmental standards and procedures, and, when necessary, modified during subsequent post-tenure reviews. In addition, the review should identify resources available for faculty to continue to fulfill departmental standards. The supervisor's report of the results of the post-tenure review shall be forwarded to the faculty member, the Dean, and the Provost.

Performance Ratings

At the conclusion of each annual evaluation, the supervisor shall assess the faculty member's performance using the College's faculty evaluation form with the following ratings.

- Outstanding
- Exceeds Expectations
- Meets Expectations
- Below Expectations
- Unsatisfactory

In the event that the tenured faculty member is being reviewed by a non-tenured supervisor, the faculty member may request that a tenured supervisor be present at or participate in his or her review.

- Outstanding, Exceeds or Meets Expectations Ratings. Supervisors and Deans may determine appropriate means to recognize Exceeds or Meets Expectations performances, and to reward Outstanding performances.

- Below Expectations and Unsatisfactory Ratings in Any Area of the Faculty Annual Evaluation. A Below Expectations or Unsatisfactory rating at any point in the annual evaluation shall be used by the supervisor to indicate a deficiency or deficiencies in the faculty member's performance. The supervisor shall report any unsatisfactory rating to both the faculty member and the dean. This report should include:

- a. The deficiency or deficiencies
- b. The necessary actions for the faculty member to undertake
- c. A list of available resources to assist in the remediation
- d. A reasonable timeframe for completing the actions

According to Chapter 21, Article 1, Section 21- 7.1-Post Tenure Review Process of the New Mexico Code E: “In the event a faculty member receives an unfavorable evaluation in the area of the faculty member’s teaching, the post-tenure review process shall include: A two-year probation and reevaluation period; and loss of tenure if, during the subsequent probation and reevaluation period, the faculty member fails to demonstrate improvement in the area of teaching.”

To be in alignment with this statute, the following remediation and probation process will be followed for post-tenure review. If a faculty member receives an unsatisfactory rating in any of the categories of the annual faculty evaluation, a two-year probation and reevaluation period will be enforced. If the faculty member fails to demonstrate improvement, a loss of tenure may occur.

Report

The supervisor shall forward the initial report indicating unsatisfactory performance to the faculty member, the Dean, and the Provost. A subsequent report shall be sent to the same parties at the end of the designated timeframe confirming whether or not the deficiency has been corrected.

Responsibilities

Supervisors shall use all available departmental, college, and institutional resources to assist the tenured faculty member in remedying the deficiency or deficiencies. Supervisors should be flexible in assessing progress if the tenured faculty member demonstrates good faith efforts. The faculty member is responsible for remedying the deficiency or deficiencies. Failure to remediate within the two-year probationary period will result in institutional action. This action may include loss of tenure and termination from the institution.

Appeals

The tenured faculty member and the supervisor shall informally attempt to resolve any disagreements regarding performance ratings. If a mutual resolution is not reached with the supervisor, the faculty member may appeal within 10 working days, in writing, to the Dean, or alternatively to the Provost when the Dean is the immediate supervisor.

II. K. Constructive feedback of Chairs/Directors by Faculty Members

Faculty members will have the opportunity to provide anonymous constructive feedback to Chairperson and Directors once per year.

II. L. Constructive feedback of Academic Deans/Provost by Faculty

Faculty members will have the opportunity to provide anonymous constructive feedback to Deans and Provost once per year.

II. M. Policies and Procedures for Termination of Employment

1. Reappointment Review

All tenure-track and non-tenure-track faculty members out of the Bargaining Unit are considered probationary appointments until granted tenure. Such appointments are subject to renewal on an annual basis at the sole discretion of the College. The decision regarding renewal must be made by May 15th.

The reappointment recommendation made by the supervisor will be first evaluated by the Dean and the Dean will make a recommendation to the Provost. The decision of the Provost is final and will be communicated to the faculty member in writing no later than May 15th. The only grounds for appeal available to the faculty member are for an alleged violation of this Handbook. Such appeals are sent through the procedures outlined in the grievance process.

2. Termination: Dismissal for cause

Dismissal for cause is a permanent involuntary separation of employment from the College for disciplinary reasons. A faculty member may be discharged without prior progressive discipline when warranted by the seriousness of the offense.

Process

a. Required approvals by the Department of Human Resources

Supervisors contemplating the dismissal of a faculty member, must consult with the Department of Human Resources before taking such actions. Dismissal requires the approval of the Dean, Chair or Director, appropriate Vice-President and the Director of Human Resources.

b. Pay Status

Faculty members will normally remain at work pending the issuance of a Notice of Final Action. However, a Vice-President/Dean/Chair/Director may, with the approval of Human Resources, place a faculty member on administrative leave with pay pending completion of the investigative or disciplinary process.

c. Notice Requirements

Notices shall be in writing and will normally be served in person by the immediate supervisor, if possible. At the time of service, the faculty member shall be asked to sign an acknowledgement of receipt. If the faculty member declines, the supervisor shall so note on the letter itself for record purposes. If the notice cannot be presented personally, the letter may be sent certified mail with a return receipt requested. The notice must be properly stamped and addressed to the last address provided by the faculty member. Service of the notice is complete when the notice is deposited with the United States Postal Service.

d. Notice of Contemplated Action (NCA)

To initiate a discharge of a non-probationary regular or term faculty member, the Dean/Chair Director will contact the Director of Human Resources and the appropriate Vice-President. Human Resources will assist in the drafting of the NCA, gathering required documentation and will coordinate a time to meet with the supervisor and faculty member to present the NCA. The NCA must include the following:

- Specify the contemplated action
- Specify the basis for a determination that just cause exists to discharge the faculty member
- Indicate which policies the faculty member has violated.
- Specify that the faculty member has the right to respond to the notice of contemplated action within ten (10) work days of receipt of the NCA if submitting a written response.
- Specify that the faculty member must request to present an oral response within five (5) work days.

e. Response to a Notice of Contemplated Action

The faculty member may respond orally or in writing to the notice of contemplated action within ten (10) working days of receipt of the NCA. The written response will be submitted to the Director of Human Resources. If the faculty member wishes to present an oral response, he/she must submit a written request for the meeting within five (5) working days from receipt of the notice of contemplated action. Any extension of time must be in writing and agreed upon by both the faculty and the Department of Human Resources. Oral response meetings will include a member of the Human Resources Department, and at the faculty member's request, a faculty member shall be entitled to Federation representation.

- When the NCA is served by mail, the faculty member shall have three (3) additional calendar days in which to submit a written response or submit a request to present an oral response.

- The purpose of the written or oral response is not to provide an evidentiary hearing but is an opportunity for the faculty member to respond to the charges against him or her.

f. Final Notice of Disciplinary Action

If a faculty member submits a written response or presents an oral response, the Dean/Chair/Director will take the response into consideration. The Dean/Chair/Director, after consultation with the Human Resources Department, will decide on the final action to be taken, whether or not the faculty member has responded to the NCA. The final disciplinary action, signed by the Dean/Director shall be issued no later than ten (10) working days from the date of receipt of the written response, the oral response or within ten (10) working days following the expiration of the response period. The Notice of Final action should include the following:

- Statement of the final discipline to be taken, which may be upholding the contemplated action, a lesser form of discipline than contemplated, or no disciplinary action.
- Notice should contain the basis for a determination of just cause for the suspension, demotion or dismissal.
- Statement indicating if the faculty member responded to the Notice of Contemplated Action.
- Specify when the disciplinary action will be effective.
- If the faculty member had previously submitted a timely written response or a timely oral response, inform faculty member that the disciplinary action may be appealed in writing to the Human Resource Department within five (5) working days from receipt of the Final Notice.

Appeal Process

- a. This Appeal Process applies only if faculty member submitted a timely written or oral response in accordance with Section Process Part (e) above.
- b. The faculty member must submit a written appeal to the Human Resources Department within five (5) working days of receipt of the Notice of Final Action. If the faculty member does not appeal the disciplinary action within the five (5) working days, no appeal is available.

c. The Department of Human Resources, within five (5) working days after receiving the written appeal, will forward the written appeal, along with all pertinent information, to the President.

d. The President at his or her discretion, may limit his or her review to the records submitted, or the president may elect to receive new materials or evidence to be considered. The president may consult, as appropriate, with additional parties before reaching a decision. The president will render that decision within thirty (30) working days of the appeal.

e. While an appeal is pending the faculty member shall maintain the same leave status as maintained upon faculty member's receipt of the Notice of Contemplated Action, or if not already on leave with pay status, may be placed on leave with pay.

3. Reduction in Force for Tenured Faculty

The College shall determine whether or not to continue, discontinue, or re-institute programs. The Provost may identify programs for review. Program Review should include information on costs, enrollment, student-faculty ratios, societal need, program quality and other criteria appropriate to the particular situation. The College shall have the right to reduce its employment and, if necessary, discharge or terminate faculty members as a result of a reduction in force (RIF). The Faculty Senate will be notified of this recommendation as well. Every faculty member shall be associated with one academic program at NNMC and this will be documented with Human Resources. The College will consider ways of avoiding the need for a RIF through the use of both voluntary and involuntary departmental transfers.

The determination as to which faculty member is to be laid off shall be based on factors including, but not limited to, the following: education (advanced education and training related to the field); relevant employment experience; full certification or licensure; evaluations; additional certification, outside activities related to the field or program being affected; and, program needs or requirements.

The College will attempt to place the affected faculty member in a vacant full time position for which they qualify. If an affected faculty member does not accept an offered position, they shall have no recall rights under this section. A faculty member who refuses an offered position shall have no further rights to employment. Failure to respond within the time frame shall be considered a refusal of employment. Upon lay-off, a faculty member may continue to participate in health insurance benefits by contributing the full premium in accordance with the provisions of COBRA. Upon request, a laid-off faculty member may be placed on the College's approved substitute and adjunct faculty lists.

A faculty member will be required to provide a physician's statement for absences of three consecutive days charged to sick leave. If a faculty member demonstrates a pattern of abuse of sick leave, the supervisor in consultation with the Human Resources Office, may require a physician's statement of absence from the faculty member for each absence.

Sick leave may be used only for the following:

- Partial days not worked when a faculty member, who has been on sick leave, returns to work on a part-time basis while recovering from the illness or injury

FMLA affords workers the right to take up to 12 weeks off from work to care for themselves or family members during a covered medical event or for certain other family reasons. The faculty member can opt to use their sick leave to continue to receive pay during the leave. The faculty member must contact the Human Resources Department for eligibility requirements.

A copy of the summons must be sent to the Human Resources Department. Leave time may be used to obtain an order of protection or other judicial relief from domestic abuse or to meet with law enforcement officials, to consult with attorneys or district attorney's victim advocates or to attend court proceedings related to the domestic abuse of the faculty member, a minor child of the faculty member, or a person for whom the faculty member is a legal guardian. 2) The written statement of an attorney representing the faculty member, a district attorney's victim advocate, a law enforcement official or prosecuting attorney stating that the faculty member or a family member appeared or is scheduled to appear in court in connection with an incident of domestic abuse. The faculty member must contact the Human Resources Department for eligibility requirements.

Confidentiality

The College shall not disclose verification information and shall maintain confidentiality of the fact that the faculty member or faculty member's family member was involved in a domestic abuse incident, that the faculty member requested or obtained domestic abuse leave and that the faculty member made any written or oral statement about the need for domestic abuse leave. The College may disclose faculty member's information related to domestic abuse leave only when the faculty member consents, when a court or administrative agency orders the disclosure or when otherwise required by federal or state law.

Any payment provided to the faculty member, other than food and travel expenses, shall either be refused or turned in to the College as reimbursement for the leave with pay. A faculty member shall not participate in a Board or Commission if such participation will create a conflict of interest for the faculty member or the College or otherwise violates applicable conflict of interest laws. Absence from duty must be approved by the College President or their designee and it must not hamper the performance of their duties with the College. A faculty member shall submit a written request for the leave without pay at least two (2) weeks in advance, if possible.

Otherwise notice must be given as soon as reasonably practical. Approval may be granted for a limited duration and based on operational needs. While a leave without pay is not recommended, or granted without expectation of reinstatement, reinstatement is not guaranteed. While on an approved leave without pay, the faculty member shall be responsible for the faculty member and employer cost of medical benefits. A leave without pay shall not exceed one (1) academic year. Time spent on leave without pay in excess of one semester shall not count toward eligibility for tenure or promotion.

2. Sick leave bank

Purpose

To provide a process whereby participating full-time faculty members of Northern New Mexico College may request additional sick leave due to a catastrophic situation involving their own medical condition, as defined in this Section.

Eligibility

Only faculty who donate to the Sick Leave Bank are eligible to become members of the Sick Leave Bank, and only members may request leave from the Sick Leave Bank. Full-time faculty: must have a minimum of eighty (80) hours of accumulated sick leave and have been employed for one academic year.

Administrative Procedure

Northern New Mexico College has a standing committee to review applications for the use of sick leave from the Sick Leave Bank and to make a determination to either approve or disapprove a request. This standing committee is comprised of the Human Resources Office, the Provost, the College Dean where the faculty member who is requesting leave is employed, and a member of the Personnel Committee (if available). If the request for additional sick leave is approved, the Sick Leave Bank Committee shall notify the faculty member of the decision in writing. If the request for additional sick leave is disapproved, the Committee shall notify the faculty member in writing of the reason(s) for the disapproval. The decision of the Committee is final.

Procedure

- a. Participation in the Sick Leave Bank is strictly voluntary.
- b. By default, all eligible full-time faculty members will donate hours to contribute to the Sick Leave Bank. If a faculty member does not want to participate and/or donate to the Sick Bank, they must sign a waiver at the same time that their annual contract is signed. A faculty member who decides not to join the Sick Leave Bank must wait until the next academic year cycle to join the Bank if they decide to participate.
- c. In order to become members of the Sick Leave Bank, during the first year of membership faculty members must donate four days (twenty-eight (28) hours) of their accumulated sick leave, based on a seven-hour day. In subsequent years, faculty will donate fourteen (14) hours based on a seven-hour day.
- d. The Sick Leave Bank Committee may request additional voluntary donations if the Sick Leave Bank is low or out of contributions.
- e. Donated sick leave will not be returned to the faculty member. If not utilized, the donated sick leave shall be retained in the Sick Leave Bank.

Application for Sick Leave Bank from the Sick Leave Bank

- a. Application for sick leave from the Sick Leave Bank shall not be approved until the Faculty member has exhausted all their accumulated sick leave.
- b. Faculty members who apply for sick leave from the Sick Leave Bank must complete the Request for Use of Faculty Sick Leave Bank Form. It must accompany the Medical Certification Form properly completed by the healthcare provider. The maximum sick leave that an faculty member may request from the Sick Leave Bank at any one time is forty (40) days (280 hours) based on a seven-hour day.
- c. Appropriate documentation and required forms will be forwarded to the Sick Leave Bank Committee for consideration.
- d. If approved, the Dean shall notify the faculty member in writing and indicate the total amount of sick leave hours which were approved.
- e. The Dean shall then notify the Payroll Manager in order that the faculty member's payroll records can be adjusted with the additional sick leave.
- f. If the application is not approved, the Dean will notify the faculty member in writing specifying the reason(s) for the non-approval. The decision of the committee is final.
- g. The Sick Leave Bank will operate on a first-come, first-serve basis. If the Bank exhausts the donated hours, future request on the academic year will be denied if there are no further donations.

Definition of Catastrophic Situation

A severe illness or injury requiring prolonged hospitalization or recovery and incapacitating the person from working, creating a financial hardship. Such injury or illness often makes exceptional demands on patients, caregivers, families, and healthcare resources. 1. Request for Sabbatical Leave

Written application for sabbatical leave shall be made by the faculty member to the appropriate Dean or Chair and the Personnel Committee Chair by October 1st of the academic year prior to the academic year when the Sabbatical will take place (this includes sabbaticals occurring in the Fall or Spring terms). The Dean or Chair will forward his or her recommendation to the Faculty Senate Personnel Committee no later than the October 31st following the date of application.

The faculty member shall present, as part of the application, evidence to support the program of activities which is planned for the sabbatical period. The program of activities should give reasonable promise of accomplishing the major purpose of the leave as stated above. Sabbatical leave may be granted for further education.

2. Processing of Application

The Faculty Personnel Committee shall forward its recommendation to the Provost along with the Department Chairperson's or Dean's statement by December 1st as to how the teaching obligations for the department will be met in the event the proposal is approved. The Provost shall then evaluate the proposal both on its merits and on its effect on the operation of the College and shall send all recommendations and their own recommendation to the President no later than December 15th of the academic year prior to the academic year when the sabbatical will occur.

The President, upon review of documents submitted, shall approve or deny no later than February 28th of the academic year prior to the academic year when the sabbatical will occur.

While a faculty member is on sabbatical leave, NNMC shall continue to pay its share towards retirement, all group insurances, and social security benefits.

6. Guidelines for Awarding Sabbatical Leaves

To avoid adverse effects on the educational objectives of the individual departments and NNMC, sabbatical leave shall be governed by:

- The relative merits for desiring leave
- The direct benefit to the department and to NNMC
- The reasonable distribution of potential recipients
- The number of sabbatical requests that will be approved shall be determined by the Provost based on budget availability. The Provost will announce budget availability no later than August 31 of the academic year when the request will occur.
- The number of previous leaves granted to the applicant
- Availability of funds to support sabbatical leave

Any faculty member taking a sabbatical leave shall be issued a contract stating the compensation to be received by him/her while on sabbatical leave. In addition, this contract shall specify the faculty member's obligations to the College in regard to the sabbatical.

8. Report on Activities

The College will provide a faculty member with a copy of any document placed in his or her file, unless an original or copy was sent directly to the faculty member. The faculty member may submit a written response to any document placed in the faculty member's personnel file. This response shall also be placed in the faculty member's file.

The Human Resources Director or his or her designee must be present during any review of personnel files.

A faculty member may request a copy of his or her personnel file at any time. The copy will be made available to the faculty member within three (3) working days at the current cost per copy.

Faculty members may also place in their file materials relevant to their academic qualifications, teaching, research, scholarship, and service.

If a faculty member considers material more recent than 10 years old in his or her file to be obsolete, because of its age or a significant change in circumstances, he or she may request to the Provost in writing that the material be removed. The Provost shall consider whether the material is still relevant. Material more than ten (10) years old shall be presumed to be obsolete unless the Provost explains to the faculty member why it is still relevant. However, "core documents" such as contracts, legal settlements, and notices of disciplinary action, shall remain in a faculty member's personnel file irrespective of age.
