

TRICKSTER

A LITERARY JOURNAL

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS
2021

CALLING ALL NEW MEXICO WRITERS & ARTISTS.

TRICKSTER 2021 will focus on work on the “new normal” created by the COVID-19 pandemic. In keeping with the theme, this year’s journal will be an online edition.

The year 2020 took the world by surprise as we adapted to new ways of living our lives safely. We have adjusted to doing things differently as we quarantine and practice social distancing. We have found new, creative ways to respond to the pandemic and to each other. There is even a new vocabulary for the new era.

TELL US ABOUT YOUR EXPERIENCE OF THE “NEW NORMAL,” about your unique, compelling experiences, the challenges you face and what you have learned along the way. Tell us about your “blursdays” as you deal with “The Rona,” socialize through virtual happy hours, work from home (WFH), learn remotely, stand in lines, and distance from loved ones.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

TRICKSTER LITERARY JOURNAL is published yearly by Northern New Mexico College. We look for unpublished poetry, fiction, nonfiction, artwork, and any combination therein. The landscape and cultures of northern New Mexico shape our perspective, but we’re excited to accept original work on our current theme. We’re looking for work that moves, surprises, maybe even changes shape before our eyes. We want what we weren’t expecting. Sneak up on us. We dare you.

- Limit prose to 5,000 words; send up to five poems.
- Send multiple submissions in one document and please number your pages.
- Email work as a .doc or .rtf file to: trickster@nnmc.edu.
- Attach artwork as a high-res (300ppi) jpg, tif, or pdf.
- Include a 50-word bio separately, in third-person voice.
- All submissions are read anonymously. Include your name, address, and title of work(s) only in the body of the email. No identifying information should appear on the manuscript.
- Simultaneous submissions are accepted, but please let us know immediately if work is accepted elsewhere.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: FRI, MAY 14, 2021
